

KY River Foothills Development Council, Inc. Foothills Express

Inclement Weather Policy

While it is never our intention to completely cease operations at any time, Kentucky River Foothills Transportation Department, "Foothills Express", will abide by the following policy and schedule in the event of inclement weather. Inclement weather may include, but is not limited to, snow, ice, severe storms, and other adverse weather situations.

During inclement weather, transportation services offered will be determined on a daily basis by assessing the severity of travel conditions. Information regarding daily service levels will be finalized and disseminated as quickly as possible each severe weather day.

Information regarding the level of service offered by Foothills Express will be provided via the following media sources:

- Local television news stations: WKYT (27)
- Social Media: www.Facebook.com/KRFDC

In order to provide the safest manner of transportation available, the following levels of service will be observed: The levels of service in this policy are governed by the Transportation Director or their designee.

1. Full Service: Full service denotes no changes to regularly scheduled services. There may or may not be a television or social media announcement. If no announcement is made, assume that transportation will run on a normal schedule.
2. Delayed Service: Scheduled trips for that particular day will be on a trip-by-trip basis, depending on weather and road conditions. This level of service will be used to allow our drivers to complete trips that are deemed safe, and also to allow for conditions to improve to a level deemed safe for travel for the rest of the day. At this level, Foothills Express Management and staff will determine the road condition of each trip to deem unsafe or safe enough to transport. If road conditions do not improve to allow for safe passage of vehicles, the level of service will be downgraded to Limited Service (as described below). The only exceptions to this level of service are immediate medical necessities, such as kidney dialysis clients.
3. Limited Service: This level of service denotes that Foothills Express Management has determined the road conditions are deemed unsafe to travel for regular service. At this level of service, the only transportation that will be provided is for immediate medical necessities, primarily kidney dialysis clients only. Riders will not be transported if the road conditions are deemed unsafe by Foothills Express personnel.
4. EKU Big E Transit: All EKU routes will be based on the EKU Richmond Campus schedule. Information regarding Big E Transit inclement weather delays will be posted on the PASSIO GO app and KRFDC' Facebook page.

Every effort will be made to contact Foothills Express personnel regarding their schedules for any day when inclement weather becomes an issue. Foothills Express will make every attempt to provide the highest level of service to all passengers. However, Foothills Express reserves the right to cancel services if road conditions are deemed too dangerous for safe operation throughout the day. We appreciate your understanding and cooperation with this policy, as we attempt to provide the safest transportation services.
